SAVAGE THRUST OF BRITISH AND FRENCH ARMIES ON THE PICARDY FRONT HAS BROKEN THE GERMAN LINES SOUTH OF THE SOMME. A WEDGE HAS BEEN DRIVEN INTO GERMAN LINES TO A DEPTH OF ELEVEN MILES.

ALLIES CONTROL MAIN SUPPLY RAILWAY SUCCESS GREATER THAN ANY HUN EFFORT OF THE PRESENT YEAR'S CAMPAIGN

WHOLE GERMAN LINE TO THE SOUTHWARD IS MENACED BY THE ALLIED MASTERFUL STROKE. LITTLE CHANGE NOTED ALONG THE VESLE FRONT. AIRMEN BLOW UP BRIDGE AND HAMPER GERMAN RETREAT.

SEVENTEEN THOUSAND PRISONERS BAGGED VAST QUANTITIES OF GUNS AND STORES FALL INTO POSSESSION OF THE ALLIES

German line on the Picardy front south of the Somme have been badly broken by the savage thrust of the British and French armies.

A wedge has been driven into German territory to a depth of 11 miles along the Amiens-Chaulnes-LaFere railroad and early today the British were only a mile away from the Chaulnes-Roye railway which runs southward from Chaulnes and forms the chief artery of the supplies for the German troops fighting in the Montdidier sector.

The result of this attack loosed against the Germans on the Amiens front Thursday morning appears to have eclipsed those obtained by the Germans on the first day of any of their terrific offensives of the last spring and summer. So far as reports show in the progress south of the Somme the Allies are going forward almost without serious opposition. On the north bank of the stream the Germans have held their lines strongly but have lost Morlancourt, their stronghold there after hard fighting. The French further to the south have had their advance retarded at numerous points.

From dispatches from the front it appears the Allies attacked the Germans with little artillery preparation. Armored tanks in great numbers tore through the German first line positions, infantry masses followed and then the cavalry and armored motor cars swept into the back areas surprising German detachments and throwing the whole defensive organization of the enemy into chaos. Hardly had the reversal been reported than dispatches began to tell of the German retirement in the Flanders sector.

In its larger aspects the success of the allies south of the Somme constitute a very serious threat to the German line to the southward. The advance has not so far weakened the positions northward toward Arras but the enemy finds himself in an embarrassing position around Montdidier and from that town southeastward at least as far as the Cise river. A further advance of the allies in Picardy would outank the whole German line as far as the Oise and probably secure an immediate retirement to positions which can be linked up with the Aisne line.

Along the Vesle there has been little change in the situation. The pressure continues and substantial forces are reported to be across the Vesle river ready to continue the advance northward.

In northern Russia the allied troops landed at Archangel are moving south along the Vologda railroad. The Bolsheviks aided by some German units have retired to 70 miles south of Archangel.

AIRMEN CUTTING OFF RETREAT

With the British Army in France, August 9.—Allied airmen have blown up many of the bridges over the Somme river and the enemy's retreat is seriously embarrassed. The British cavalry have rounded up many prisoners but the largest part of the 17,000 prisoners now reported captured were taken by Australians and Canadians.

An enormous store of ammunition and supplies has been abandoned by the Germans.

ADVANCE REACHES 11 MILES

London, August 9.—The Franco-British advance on the front south of the Somme has reached a maximum depth of 11 miles according to official news reaching here shortly after noon today.

ENLARGED PROGRAM EXPLAINED

Secretary Baker Talks to Senate Committee.

Urging Enactment of Big War Measure.

Prompt Action Is Urged So Registration May Be Made September 5th.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, August 9.—The enlarged war program was explained to the senate military committee behind closed doors today by Secretary Baker in urging enactment as soon as possible of the administration's man power bill extending draft ages to include men between 18 and 45. He said the extension was essential and necessary to provide the men needed to bring the war to a quick conclusion.

In a brief statement he said the order issued yesterday suspending all army and navy enlistments does not apply to any person who had taken steps prior to the issuance of the order enlist or to enter a military training camp.

Prompt enactment of the draft extension bill so that September 5th may be fixed as registration day was urged by Secretary Baker. Without the extension he said it would be necessary to invade the deferred classes.

DANIELS TALKS

Washington, August 9.—Secretary Daniels discussed with newspaper men the order stopping enlistments. With 100,000 now at recruiting stations and in training camps and 25,000 at home awaiting call he said the navy has an abundance of material. Men enrolled up to yesterday will be received and those with those waiting at home will be called to service when there is room for them. All recruiting stations may not be closed, but the number will be reduced.

ALL ABOARD FOR ANNUAL FAYETTE FAIR

Big Annual Event Will Be Staged as Usual Next Week and Everything Is Being Placed in Readiness.

Notes on the Fair to Wise up the Thousands Who Will Attend.

Plans for the Fayette County Fair next week are now being carried out in detail, and there is every indication that the three-day fair will be a good one and will be largely attended.

The Washington band will furnish the music Thursday and Friday, and good programs are being prepared by the band.

War work activities will be found under the joint management of the Red Cross and the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense. A rest room, under their direction, will be arranged in the large room at the right of the Grand Stand as you enter, and exhibits of the work of these two bodies may be seen here and in the Art hall. These exhibits will illustrate the value of this work, and will prove very interesting.

The Boys' and Girls' Clubs will be in evidence again this year with their Pig, Chicken and Domestic Science work. Especial value is placed in this branch of Fair work all over the country in this time of war. Be sure to find these exhibits. They will be worth while. Exhibits must be in place not later than 10 a. m. Wednesday.

The trotters and pacers are coming. Six rattling good races may be looked for Thursday and Friday. The track is going to be fast, and there will be some exciting finishes in front of the Grand Stand.

Pomona Grange prizes are attracting a lot of interest, and a good part of the Agricultural hall will be occupied by their exhibits.

War time breads, cakes and preserves will be in this building, too, and a fine display of Agricultural products. Don't miss them.

Mrs. Madge Miller McCrea will be in charge of the Art Department and Mrs. Von Bergen, of Sidney, who gave excellent satisfaction last year as judge, will act again in that capacity. Potted plants and flowers are eliminated from the catalogue this year, the board feeling that they were not so much a war time product as other things.

The machinery exhibits bid fair to exceed those of past years, with the growing use of trucks, tractors, other motor vehicles and labor-saving devices generally. Several tractor companies have arranged for space, and some demonstrations may be expected during the week.

O. A. Klever, Superintendent of the Swine Department, looks for the usual number of exhibits in his class.

Fred Janes is doing his best to collect a bunch of show class horses. There are a lot of fine animals in the county, and if they can be induced to enter, the lovers of good horse flesh will see some extra fine specimens.

Don't forget the Horse-shoe Tournament. It promises to be a hummer. Every township in the county has its crack pitcher, and a lot of them are coming. Wednesday will be their day, and the county championship hangs on the result.

The Veterans of 61' will be admitted free, as usual. No tickets will be issued, but the Grand Army button will admit the veteran each day to grounds and Grand Stand.

War stamps and Thrift stamps may be ordered at the office of the Secretary. Cards will be on hand for any wishing to order stamps. Try it.

Premiums will be paid in part, in Thrift stamps. It was not feasible to arrange to pay all premiums in this way, but many of them can be so handled, and will be.

Shows and attractions will be on hand in numbers. The Midway will have more attractions than ever.

The Odd Fellows will feed you and you need not go hungry nor thirsty if you will locate their building. They have the lunch and drink and melon concession, and they will hand you out good things in each of these lines.

Admission this year is 30 cents, Grand Stand the same. This is necessary because of war tax. Have your quarters and nickels all ready, and help the chaps who have to make the change.

People are attending fairs in greater numbers this year than ever. They want to get together and discuss the war and all the various problems now before us and to grow out of it. And there never was and never will be any place just like the County Fair for finding every one you want to see. All the folks from Fayette and most of the folks from the adjacent counties will be there Thursday and Friday anyway. We've all had a long, busy, hard summer. Take Fair week for some pleasure and visiting and make your plans early to spend it at the Fair grounds. All come.

SABINA HIGHWAY READY FOR USE

The Sabina pike has been completed and thrown open to traffic, so that it is now no longer necessary to detour in order to reach Sabina.

This welcome news comes after the road has been closed, or virtually impassable, for some 15 months while it was being rebuilt from the city limits to the county line, a distance of over seven miles.

The contractors, Mark and Van Gundy have been greatly hampered by labor and material conditions, chiefly the latter, as it was impossible to obtain the material as rapidly as needed.

COMMUNITY SING PART OF SERVICES

The community sing will be observed in this city each Sunday evening during August, lasting half an hour, and will precede the regular union services of the churches to be held on the court house lawn each Sunday evening in August.

The community sing, to be in charge of Mr. Herron, will begin promptly at 7:00 o'clock each Sunday evening and last 30 minutes. Everyone is invited to join in and sing.

FRENCHMAN IS GREATEST FAKIR

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Paris, July 24.—The heroic exploits and hair-breadth escapes of D'Artagnan as narrated by Dumas in The Three Musketeers fade into comparative insignificance when compared with the achievements of Rene Bertrand as told by himself. Minus an arm and a leg with nine medals glittering on his breast, and asserting that his body bore more than 30 bullet and bayonet wounds, "Private Rene Bertrand of the French Colonel Infantry" posed in Paris as the greatest hero of the war.

Now he has been arrested as perhaps one of the wars greatest fakirs and the police authorities declare that he lost his leg and arm in a railway accident and that five imprisonments instead of five citations compose his record. It was the publication of Bertrand's photograph in a French newspaper that led to his undoing.

Meantime, while reveling in the fruits of his own romance, Bertrand enjoyed the confidence of army officers and the credit of the leading Paris cafes. One famous and fearless aviator made private Bertrand his godson and "adopted" him for the balance of the war.

The medals he wore included the cross of the legion of honor, the military medal, the war cross with seven palms and five stars, the British military cross, the Belgian war cross, the colonial medal, medal of Morocco, and the medal for saving life, and the medal for wounds. In addition he wore the "fouragere" of the legion of honor.

Where he got them has not been disclosed but to account for them Bertrand constructed a story of wonderful incidents. According to this tale he won the military medal by saving the lives of two officers and was himself wounded in the thigh when surrounded by natives while fighting with the French Territorial Forces in Morocco, in 1913.

CONSOLIDATION IS COMING SOON

Consolidation of the railroad business in this city under one general agent is expected in the near future, and the local railroad men, who at first declared that nothing of the kind would be done are now of the belief that the consolidation is coming.

Just how extensive the consolidation will be outside of placing one general agent in charge at this point, is not known, but may include the extension of the B. & O. freight station so that the freight business of all railroads may be handled from it. This is only a possibility, however, and the plan is said to have been considered and abandoned, at least temporarily.

A program will be given in the afternoon. 187 t4

THE NATION WIDE CROP SUMMARY

Washington, August 9.—Rainfall has occurred in upper Mississippi Valley and southwestward over northwest Iowa, southern South Dakota, most of Nebraska and western Kansas, also east-central Kentucky and western Montana. There was great variation in the amounts, but they were moderate to heavy in northwest Iowa, south-central Nebraska and the vicinity of Scott City, Kansas. The intensely hot weather has continued from Iowa and the southern Plains States eastward with absolute highest records occurring on Tuesday at several places from Lake Michigan and Illinois eastward. Moderate temperatures prevail in the entire Northwest.

OHIO CONDITIONS

The first part of the week was cool but the last part of the week was excessively hot. There was an abundance of sunshine and practically no rainfall. Threshing progressed rapidly. Oats threshing was begun in extreme eastern counties and field threshing was completed in many western communities. Plowing for winter wheat is in progress in the western and northwestern counties where the ground is not too dry. The rains of the preceding week improved the condition of the corn and it continued to advance nicely in most western and northern counties and favored localities elsewhere; but the growth has been retarded in eastern, southeastern and some middle counties by the lack of moisture. Pastures are becoming very short and brown and in some localities stock have been put on winter feed. Water is becoming scarce in some sections also. Tobacco is generally looking well. The prospects for apples is rather poor in much of the state but is quite good along the shore of Lake Erie.

J. M. Kirk, Temporarily in Charge

Columbus, Ohio, August 9. — Only good weather is needed now to make the running of the dirt track championship at the Columbus Driving Park Sunday afternoon the greatest auto event ever seen here. Four of the greatest drivers—Ralph De Palma, Louis Chevrolet, Ira Vail and Arthur Duray—have entered and every one has a car capable of smashing every record from one to fifteen miles.

Duray the famous pilot arrived yesterday and went at once to visit the mother of Eddie Rickenbacker his old time friend and crony. Duray, who fought for three and one half years with the French army, paid glowing tribute to the American ace. Today Duray went to Dayton to visit with several officers of the French aviation service who are detailed as instructors to the American flyers at that place.

SIX AUTOS STOLEN

Last Thursday's Columbus Dispatch says: "Six automobiles were stolen in Columbus Wednesday night. The following reported the theft of their cars: H. R. Allen, 105 Winner avenue; Mrs. Florence Wing, Mechanicsburg; Mrs. C. E. Nichols, Westerville; Forest Redmon, Mt. Sterling, George S. Sweeny, 1086 Michigan avenue, and G. W. Wells, 301 Livingston avenue."

For $2.50 we will install the best lock—The Ram—on your Ford machine, insuring it against theft. See us before the Fair. Hitchcock and Dalbey.

Better Times

The masterful strategy of General Foch becomes more clearly apparent as the great drama of the war is enacted in the series of brilliantly executed and crushingly effective offensives being launched by the armies of the allies.

Having administered a disastrous defeat to the armies of the Crown Prince in the Soissons-Rheims salient, inflicted an enormous loss upon the enemy—a loss which has practically rendered the picked army of the German princeling unfit for military service for the remainder of the year 1918, if not for all time, and recovered valuable territory, General Foch has not rested on his honors, content with having eliminated that sector of German control, but has pushed on across the Vesle river and, in some places east of Soissons has forced a crossing of the Aisne.

While pressing his advantage against the disorganized and disheartened troops of the Crown Prince, General Foch has struck a mighty blow in the Amiens sector, taking the Huns completely by surprise, making important captures in territory, prisoners and guns, succeeded in throwing the Hun forces into confusion and in every way almost duplicating his successes in the Soissons-Rheims battle.

The people of the allied nations have waited a long time for the glorious news of successes which is now coming out of the war zones.

Through it all the confidence of soldiers and civilians in General Foch has remained unshaken. They have felt, even in the moments that seemed darkest, that the great French leader with his tremendous armies, would strike and that when he did strike the outcome would be almost assured. That confidence of General Foch is as firm today as ever—no more. The people of the allied nations feel that at last the opportune moment has come and with the tremendous army pouring into the battle zones from America, General Foch, confident of his reserve forces, in quantity and quality, has wrested the initiative from the Germans, never again to allow it to pass to the Huns.

While, of course, we must not be too optimistic, yet there can be no harm now since the cheering news of indisputable and pronounced successes is supplemented by the ringing and confident addresses of allied statesmen and the marked note of despondency in the German comment on later developments, to indulge in a bit of cheerful expression.

There seems no reason now why the trend of the battling, from this time on, should not favor the allies with, very likely, an occasional rally of the enemy.

It's Real Work All Right

The war department has ruled that under the work or fight order at least, reporting on newspapers is real work and that under that order of General Crowder newspaper it was not the intention to classify newspaper work as a non-essential occupation.

Naturally, knowing something of the newspaper game, as it is being played these days, we agree entirely with the distinguished authorities that newspaper work is real work.

The newspaper men are always on the job, day and night, Sundays and holidays, getting the news and seeing to it that it is properly presented to the public. Anyone who has any doubts about whether newspaper work is real work can have their doubts dispelled by a casual survey of a day (twenty-four hours) in a newspaper office.

The fact that the work is essential seems no less clear.

The foundation of America's greatness in times of peace, as well as in times of war, is the intelligent grasp of the American people on conditions and their complete knowledge of those conditions as they exist throughout the world.

Without the newspapers the people would be unable to keep abreast of the times, unable to form a correct opinion and unable to act with that full knowledge and intelligence which is the cornerstone of their power.

There has been no more forceful agency in building up the splendid understanding patriotism with which the American people are now accomplishing such marvelous work at home and such deeds of valor on the field of battle, than the American newspapers, their editorial, reportorial staffs and mechanical departments.

They have been, and are a tremendous factor in America's greatness. To disturb them unnecessarily would be a grave mistake.

Poetry For Today

THE HUN

Strike down! Strike down the hideous thing
That trails o'er the quivering earth
That poisons the world with its venomous sting
And stifles the soul in its birth!

Strike down the monster that darkens the land
And scourges with pitiless blow,
That kindles destruction with treacherous hand
And gloats over sorrow and woe!

Strike down the spectre that riddles the air
With death dealing missiles unseen,
That murders the feeble, the young and the fair
And mangles the pure and the clean!

Strike down the horrible thing of the deep
That steals 'neath the shuddering wave,
That strangles sweet lives in their innocent sleep
And roars o'er their watery grave!

The season of waiting is more than gone by
And reckoning swift must be done;
Arise! Sons of Freedom! with "Vengeance" your cry,
And down with the merciless Hun!

Arise for the sake of the living and dead,
Unite all your powers in one;
With banners of righteousness borne overhead
Strike down the unspeakable Hun!

And strike, full determined mankind to make free,
With fire and with sword and with gun—
That heaven may hurl an eternal decree
O'erwhelming the damnable Hun!
—Rear Admiral Corwin P. Rees.

ALLIES' PUSH IRRESISTIBLE

(American Press)

London, Aug. 9.—Under fierce onslaughts in their new offensive launched between Montdidier and Amiens, British and French troops have penetrated deeply into the German positions over a front of more than 20 miles, reaching from the region of Braches to the neighborhood of Morlancoeur.

Following short but intensive artillery preparation and aided by misty weather, the allied attack took the Germans completely by surprise and they had almost everywhere pell mell before the tanks, motor machine gun batteries, cavalry and infantry sent against them. All the objectives set for the Australians, Canadians, Englishmen and Frenchmen were attained in remarkably quick time. Wherever the enemy turned to give battle he was decisively defeated.

Seven thousand Germans were made prisoner. Large numbers of guns were captured, great quantities of war materials were taken and a score or more of villages and hamlets were recaptured. In addition, heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy.

At its deepest point the penetration of the German line was about seven and a half miles, eastward from Villers-Bretonneux to Framerville, while from two to five miles were gained all along the front from northwest of Montdidier to the region around Morlancoeur. The fighting extended north of Morlancoeur to the Albert sector, but no official details concerning it have been received.

The advance of the allies in the center places them well astride the railroad leading from Villers-Bretonneux to the important junction at Chaulnes, where lines radiate north-eastward toward Peronne and southward through Roye to Compiègne. The railway line running northward to Bray was crossed when the allies took Framerville.

Well out on the plains and pressing forward, seemingly with great rapidity, the present offensive of the French and British gives promise of seriously menacing the entire German front from near the sea to Rheims. If the drive should proceed eastward to any great depth it can not but affect the armies of the German crown prince now fighting between the Aisne and the Vesle, and possibly make impracticable a stand by them even north of the Aisne.

Channel Ports Secure.

Under the pressure of the offensive the menace to the channel ports also seems for the moment at least to vanish. Already there have been signs to the northward from the positions where Crown Prince Rupprecht had formed his men for a drive toward the channel that a retrograde movement by the Germans was not improbable. With the armies of his imperial cousin on the Soissons-Rheims salient badly shattered and unable to lend him aid when his own forces north of Montdidier are in a rather precarious position as a result of the new offensive, it is apparent that Rupprecht will have to defer his campaign to cut off the cross channel service.

On the Vesle front little fighting occurred, except in the process of the straightening operations on the north bank, where, under an almost incessant rain of enemy shells both the American and the French troops improved their stands. The German guns not alone are playing upon the allied forces, but also are hammering away at bridges across the stream over which men constantly are making their way to the northern bank of the stream to reinforce their comrades already there. What effect the present battle southeast of Amiens is to have on the Vesle-Aisne front remains to be seen.

10,000 Prisoners Taken.

Paris, Aug. 9.—The number of prisoners taken by the French and British in Picardy now exceeds 10,000, according to the latest news from the battle front. The enemy's casualties have been heavy.

COMPLETES HIS 48TH HEALTH WALK

(Associated Press Correspondence)

London, August 1.—E. N. Radford, although more than 80 years old, has just completed for the 48th time, his annual walk from Bristol to London, with the object, he says, of teaching the people of England "common sense in regard to meat and drink." At the conclusion of the long walk, every year, he delivers a lecture in Hyde Park, finding for his text a passage from the first chapter of Daniel:

"Let them give us pulse to eat and water to drink. And their countenance waxed fairer and fatter in flesh than all the children which did eat the portion of the King's meat. And in all matters of wisdom and understanding that the King inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers that were in all his realm."

Mr. Radford is a veteran of the Crimean war, and in his speech he always recalls the march of his old regiment from Portsmouth to London to attend the funeral of the Iron Duke in 1852.

"I was then, as I am now, a teetotaler and non-smoker," he says. "Therefore I am able to walk and talk, and tell people how to be happy without drinks and medicine. My annual walk of 200 miles is just a pleasure jaunt. After it is over, I always take another walk up into Whitshire and spend the next four months working on a farm."

ALLIES ADVANCE TOWARD VOLOGDA

(American Press)

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—The government of the "country of the north" recently established at Archangel after a revolution against the Bolsheviks, has addressed a proclamation to the people of the district declaring the Bolshevik regime at an end and announcing that the new government has taken up the duty of governing the region. The aim of the government is, first, the regeneration of Russia, the resumption of relations between Russia and other governments and the organization of local power with the government of the north.

American Ambassador Francis and other allied representatives and their staffs left Kandalaska, Lapland, for Archangel. On their arrival at Archangel the ambassadors will decide upon their future plans. Ambassador Francis hopes to return to Vologda if it is safe.

In taking Archangel the allies defeated 5,000 enemy troops and captured large quantities of stores and two batteries. North of the Gulf of Finland 50,000 Germans are reported to be concentrated, ready for hostilities. Archangel is on the White sea, at the mouth of the Dvina river, and is an important Russian port. The allies now are moving against Vologda, 400 miles south of Archangel.

EFFECTS OF "TNT" ARE OVERCOME

(Associated Press Correspondence)

London, August 1.—The evil effects of "TNT" on workers in munitions factories have been largely overcome by a close medical supervision of the workers combined with improved methods of working and the substitution of mechanical processes.

In six months, October to March, 1916-1917, there were 169 cases of serious illness; in the corresponding period of 1917-1918 there were only 42 cases; in April this year four cases and in May only one.

Civilians Eligible.

Washington, Aug. 9.—To provide officers for the conservation and reclamation division of the quarter-master corps, a special training camp will be established at Camp Joseph E. Johnston, Jacksonville, Fla., according to announcement by the war department. Civilians over draft age will be eligible and 100 candidates will be sent to camp Aug. 15 and 400 on Sept. 1.

JOHN D. SHOOP, NOTED EDUCATOR DIES SUDDENLY THIS MORNING

SUPT. JOHN D. SHOOP

Prof. John D. Shoop, superintendent of the Chicago public schools, former resident of this city, and recognized as one of the best educators in America, died suddenly while seated in a chair in a hotel in Rockville, Indiana, about 8:30 Friday morning, and the sad news of his death reached his wife about eleven o'clock at the home of her mother, Mrs. Rebecca Perrill, on South Fayette street, about eleven o'clock coming like a bolt from a clear sky.

Supt. Shoop had been making a tour of Indiana, speaking in the interests of education, and had delivered an address at Rockville and was preparing to deliver another Friday. He had been in his usual health prior to the sudden attack which caused his death.

Mrs. Shoop and youngest son, Edwin, came to this city Wednesday night and Supt. Shoop was to have joined them later after completing his speaking tour in Indiana. The other son, Arnold, is now in the military service at Ft. Sheridan, Illinois. News of the sudden death of Supt. Shoop came by long distance telephone from Chicago to his brother, Mr. H. C. Shoop, and the brief facts pertaining to his death alone were given.

Upon receipt of the news of her death to start for Rockville but was persuaded to remain at the home of her mother while arrangements were made for shipping the body to this city for interment, this will be done, the body probably arriving here Saturday evening or Sunday.

Funeral announcement will be made later. Supt. Shoop had been busy with his duties in Chicago and filling speaking dates, but so far as known had not been in ill health, although his health had never been as good as before the serious automobile accident which befell him while in Indiana some two or three years ago, and which nearly resulted in his death.

Supt. Shoop was strictly a self-made man, and a man whom all loved and respected because of his sterling qualities.

He was born on a farm in the Rattlesnake valley, in western Fayette county, March 3, 1857, and was left an orphan while still a very small boy. He grew up on a farm, and was always industrious and studious. He was educated in the public schools of this city and county, later becoming a teacher in the schools, and finally superintendent of the Bloomingburg schools.

Soon after this he went to Indiana, where he took a college course, and his climb upward was speedy. After being in charge of various schools in Indiana and Illinois he went to Chicago in 1903 and was appointed principal of a public school. His wonderful executive ability manifested itself so strongly that in 1909 he was appointed assistant superintendent of the Chicago public schools under Ella Flagg Young, and held this position with supervision over near 7,000 teachers and 360,000 pupils. He was a prominent member of the National Educational Association, and had a nation-wide reputation as a school executive second to none.

He was married to Miss Jennie B. Perrill, of this place, in 1887, and almost every year Supt. and Mrs. Shoop have returned for a visit with their relatives in this city. Mr. H. C. Shoop, who operates a harness shop on North Fayette street is the only surviving brother.

Supt. Shoop always lived and labored under the assumption that "every man creates his own world" and with this thought in view and by his own efforts he climbed to the very apex of the educational world.

INFANT SON DIES

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Reeder have the deep sympathy of many friends in the loss of their baby son, born Wednesday at the Fayette Hospital. The little one was taken to the home Friday morning and will be laid to rest in the Reeder family lot in the Washington cemetery this evening at seven o'clock.

NOW A CLUB MEMBER

Last spring I decided to join the Pig Club, with Mrs. Bernice Allen County Leader and Mrs. Frank Haines Local Leader. I bought my pig, a pure bred spotted Poland China from A. W. Clouser of near Culpeper, O., on April 27, 1918. I named it Al, in honor of its former owner. He soon learned to come when called by his new name and became a great pet. On May 1st it was weighed by two men, weighing 43 pounds. On this same day I began to keep records, which at first I thought would be a very monotonous task, but I soon became accustomed to the daily task of weighing the food on a small pair of scales which I purchased at Ford's Hardware for that purpose. He seemed to enjoy the baths which I gave him every day but I know that he could not enjoy it any better than I did for I always looked forward to the time I would take my soap, water and rag to the pig pen. The meetings that were held in the Y. M. C. A. building were very interesting. I attended them all but one. This time I had no way to get up to town as we were helping the neighbors thresh. I did not complain at all as I thought it more important to help thresh as the U. S. A. needs all the wheat it can get to feed the great army now in France.

FOUR YOUNG WOMEN ENROLL IN STUDENT NURSE RESERVE CORPS

In the campaign conducted in Fayette county under the direction of the Women's Committee of the Council of National Defense to enroll young women in the Student Nurse Reserve four candidates have taken out application papers. The recruits are: Misses Bertha McKittick, Washington C. H., Gladys Moots, E. F. D., Alice Price, Washington C. H., Lela Johnson, Washington C. H.

There are several others who are seriously considering call, but have not definitely enrolled.

Our quota is eleven. The campaign closes tomorrow night. Are we going to fall to live up to Fayette county's previous successful patriotic drives? In Franklin county we noticed that a man endeavored to enlist in this Reserve. Will Fayette county be compelled to ask men's help in this cause? No, let us young women answer the call to colors—let us enroll and serve the country in this our call as the men have so valiantly answered theirs.

ELEVEN MEN ARE TO BE EXAMINED

Eleven additional Class One men who registered in June, 1918, have been summoned for physical examination Tuesday of next week, beginning at eight a. m. Tuesday morning.

The men are: 9 Carl Samuel Porter; 32A James Alfred Adams; 57 Clarence O. Palmer; 63 Walter Terry; 68 Chas. Raymond Lawrence; 88 Adam Roscoe Duff; 92 Morris Willard Stoops; 118 Wm. Henry Theobald; 119 Leo Lewis Moore; 129A Alfred Sailer Friend; 139 Oscar Bryant Fulton.

A previous telegram stated that well number eight was a success and was a good producer.

The well is the best yet drilled by the company, and all are very much elated over the good news.

HOW I GREW CHICKS

I am a chicken raiser. I like to see chickens eat. My chickens are Barred Plymouth Rocks. I got my eggs from home. They are the pure stock. The most of my chickens weighed over 3 pounds. "Pretty good fry, aren't they?" I have not eaten any yet because I do not think it is a wise idea. I give them sour milk every day. I have sent in my hatching report and feed record. I would like to write you a big long story but I will have to go and attend to my chickens.

DEMONSTRATION IS DENOUNCED

(American Press)

Washington, Aug. 9.—The suffrage demonstration, which resulted in 48 members of the National Woman's party being arrested, was denounced by senators at the semi-weekly session of the senate. Banners carried by the women accusing the president of being responsible for delay in acting in the senate on the woman's suffrage resolution were declared unfair and unjustified. Senators McKellar of Tennessee, Thomas of Colorado and Smoot of Utah, all suffrage supporters, declared such demonstrations are uncalled for and hurtful to the cause. An attack on the pending suffrage resolution was made by Senator Reed of Missouri, who declared that woman suffrage was a matter to be determined by the states.

BANK IS LOOTED BY YEGGMEN

(American Press)

Indianapolis, Aug. 9.—Three robbers who held up the South Side bank here escaped with between $12,000 and $20,000. The robbers entered the bank while several customers were transacting business. One struck Harold Loucke, president of the bank, over the head with a revolver, knocking him unconscious. John G. Herman, president of the Union Steel and Iron works, who was in the bank, went to Loucke's assistance, but was knocked down by a second bandit.

The third went into the cashier's cage, covered L. C. Wiles, the cashier, and several other persons. He then threw all the money in sight into two bags and disappeared through the rear door. They made their escape in an automobile.

ADVISORY BOARD GIVES INFORMATION

(Associated Press Correspondence)
Amsterdam, August 1.—An "Advisory Commission for Economic Information Abroad" was inaugurated recently at the Hague, to direct Holland's commercial offensive after the war.

The chairman is W. F. C. L. Van Rappard, former minister at Washington, and the directorate includes chairmen of the Chambers of Commerce of Amsterdam and Rotterdam; Van Aalst, president of the Netherlands Trading company; Kroeller, shipping magnate, and other chiefs of departments, trade, industry and agriculture.

J. J. Loudon, Minister of Foreign Affairs, addressing the commission at his department, said that in view of increasing impediments in the world's traffic only preparatory projects could be made for post bellum trade offensive. The chief object would be to assist the producer, whose patriotism and initiative he appealed to in order to find fresh markets, especially with regard to the colonies.

Decrease In British Tonnage.

London, Aug. 9.—The British mercantile tonnage at the outbreak of the war amounted to 18,500,000 tons gross, and the figure at the present time is 15,000,000 tons gross, Sir Leog Chiozza Money, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of shipping, announced in the house of commons.

Third Heat Victim.

Toledo, Aug. 9.—The third death from the heat was recorded when William Sainsbury, 45, a driver, was found dead in his room, to which he had retired because the heat had made him ill.

ARMY OF UNITED STATES

Washington, August 8.—A general order was issued today creating the Army of the United States, in which every element of the existing forces is merged, regardless of its origin. By the provisions of the order the terms regular army, national guards, national army and reserve corps are abolished for all purposes and with them go all insignia other than the plain "U. S." monogram heretofore reserved for regulars only.

The order, issued by General March, Chief of Staff, is sweeping and drastic in its terms, cutting off all restrictions upon transfers of men or officers from one branch of the service to the other and amending all commissions to read as in The Army of the United States.

Promotion by selection is also made absolute except the permanent advancement in the regular army, which is a peace-time status only and is covered by law.

SELLS INVENTION TO SCANDINAVIANS

(By Associated Press Dispatch)
Copenhagen, August 1.—The Dutch inventor, Ellehammer, recently sold his patent rights in a new motor engine to Norway and Sweden. The sum he received is reported to be greater than has ever been paid in Scandinavia for an invention. The feature of the new motor is steam. It is claimed that it will supersede the ordinary explosion engine, that it is neither heavier nor bulkier than benzine motor in common usage and can use the cheapest raw oils.

HUNS CHANGE THEIR AIRPLANE MARKINGS

(Associated Press Correspondence)
Amsterdam, August 1.—Details regarding new markings on German airplanes became known here recently. The arms of the black cross are now straight (not curved as formerly) with white edges. The change is said to have been made because the previous form made recognition of German machines difficult and easily led to confusion with the circular signs on Entente airplanes.

WEARING CHEVRONS

(Associated Press Correspondence)
Paris, August 1.—American "non-coms" are no longer to wear their corporal and sergeant chevrons on both arms as heretofore, but will sport them on the right sleeve only. There is some discussion as to the precise reason for the new order—whether a saving of chevrons is intended, or whether it is to prevent the "non-coms" from being gradually covered with stripes altogether. Service stripes, such as are unfortunately apt to come, and kindred marks of honor will eventually leave little room for double chevrons.

New Home Rule Bill.

London, Aug. 9.—Replying to an inquiry by John Dillon, the Nationalist leader, concerning the government's Irish policy, Edward Shortt, the secretary for Ireland, announced in the house of commons that he would be engaged during the recess in helping to draft a home rule bill which would be likely to pass the house.

HAS HIT SAFELY IN 21 STRAIGHT GAMES

ZACH WHEAT

Zach Wheat, slugging outfielder of the Brooklyn National League Club, has carried his hitting streak to twenty-one consecutive games. This equals the American League season record held by Eddie Foster of Washington, but falls short of the National League mark by two games. Ross Young, of the Giants, having batted safely in 23 straight games. Wheat is also pushing Heinie Groh for the lead in batting and if he continues his heavy stickwork to the end of the season he will no doubt grab off the batting crown of the National League.

WHAT CAN I DO ABOUT IT?

"My baby is two years old exactly. He is just as tall as government table, says he ought to be 33 3/4 inches. He doesn't weigh but 24 pounds. What can I do about it?"

This is the sort of question that the women who are weighing and measuring the children of this city as a part of the nation-wide test of the welfare of American children. The success of the test as an aid in saving the lives of 100,000 children under fire during Children's Year will be determined by the way the mothers respond to the challenge in this question—My child is underweight, what can I do about it?

If a young child's weight is as much as 2 pounds below the average for his height this should be a warning to his parents that the child's nutrition is not normal, according to the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. If the weight falls markedly below the average the Children's Bureau suggests that the child be examined by a physician to see whether some fault in hygiene or diet or some defect or sickness is causing the malnutrition.

In one large city where more than 32,000 children were weighed and measured it has been possible to direct the mother to the nearest place where she could obtain the sort of information she needed as to how to care for her child and to bring his weight up to the average for his height.

At the suggestion of the Children's Bureau the committee is urging parents to take children found to be underweight to their family physician, to infant welfare stations, or to children's clinics for a thorough examination, and, if necessary, for treatment.

In this way the mother will receive advice as to what she can do to improve her child's health. And no one has so good an opportunity as the mother has to bring a child up to the average.

PEARL SMITH IS AMONG WOUNDED

Cook Pearl Smith, of M. Company, is among the wounded now in hospitals in France, but in a letter written July 8th to his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Smith, of this city, states that he will soon be ready for service once more. His letter follows:

Somewhere in France,
July 8, 1918.

I am still among the living but am in the hospital with a small wound in the right side of my face and eye—my first misfortune, and glad to say I hope it is the last. I am getting along fine. I guess they will take the stitches out of my eye in a day or so and then I will soon be back to the outfit. I can't make much of an out at writing now, but thought a few lines better than none at all. Tell all I said Hello, and will write as soon as I get back to the company or as soon as I can get the use of the other eye, for it bothers the other some, and causes more pain. Will be out in a few days and then I will write a letter.

Love and Best Regards,
PEARL SMITH.

GOOD RAINFALL DURING NIGHT

The rains of Thursday evening and night, over much of Fayette county, were welcomed by everyone, and will do much toward saving the crops which were literally drying up under the burning rays of the sun during the past few days.

In some parts of the county the rains were heavy, while other sections escaped with a fairly good shower, but in every instance the rains proved very refreshing, and if another heat wave comes on the heels of the recent one, will do much to counteract its influence on the corn and meadows, to say nothing of war gardens.

The relief from the heat part of Thursday, Thursday night and Friday morning was most welcome.

NOTICE TO CLUBS

The boys and girls of the various clubs making exhibits at the Fayette Fair next week are requested by the Superintendent, Mrs. Bernice Allen, to have their exhibits on the Fair grounds not later than Wednesday morning at ten o'clock.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE WAR

LEARNING THE WAR ON OUR OWN HOOK

WASHINGTON, August 8.—(Associated Press)—American soldiers and sailors in training at home or in service overseas are learning game of war "on their own hook." This is the use they are making of the Library War Service, conducted by the American Library Association, for the previous idea—and it was that of some library workers—that the library service would be mostly for recreational purposes is being disproved by the heavy demand for books on military and naval science and related subjects.

In nine months after a most humble beginning, the Library War Service has become the most universal library in the world. In brief, its accomplishments include: 36 camp library buildings erected; 41 large camp libraries established; 91 hospital and Red Cross houses supplied with books; 212 libraries in service; 237 small military camps and posts equipped with book collections; 249 naval and marine stations and vessels, supplied with libraries; 1323 branches and stations placed in Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus huts, barracks and mess halls; 385,310 books shipped overseas; 411,505 books bought, most of them technical; 2,100,000 gift books in service.

Wherever there are American fighters, there is to be found the library, and in the big military camps and numerous branches and company stations. Even American prisoners of war in Germany are not neglected by the library service, for arrangements have been completed in Switzerland for serving them through that country. The Army with its combat troops, its training areas and schools, lines of communications, including construction men, guards, stevedores and others, and the headquarters and detached units, is reached by the Library War Service. The service extends to the Navy with its vessels, ship bases, mine bases and aviation stations, as also to both the Army and Navy at recreation centers, in hospitals and in captivity.

HARDSHIPS OF MEN WHO ARE SET ADRIFT

LONDON, August 8.—(Associated Press)—One instance in which an enemy submarine commander, after sinking a British vessel, amazed the survivors by giving them bandages and liniment for their wounds, stands out in sharp contrast with the brutality or indifference to suffering practiced by the German seapirates. Nevertheless the survivors tell a story of extreme hardship endured in small boats for six days and nights. Seventeen are missing of the ship's company of ninety-five.

Five hundred miles from the Irish coast a large British steamer, outward bound in ballast, received a torpedo death blow. No time was lost by the ship's company in getting away from the sinking ship.

The submarine suddenly appeared nearby and the commander came on deck. He noticed the wounded, and calling the boats alongside his craft, he went inside, returning with bandages and liniment which he handed to the surprised officers in charge of the boats. This act of kindness saved several lives.

A steamer's smoke was seen on the horizon and the U-boat made off rapidly. The small boats shaped a course toward land, but the wind was light and unfavorable. Only a small store of biscuits was carried. There was water enough for a very limited ration and in the days that followed the sun's heat was almost intolerable. Wounded Lascars succumbed one after another and were consigned to the sea.

On the fifth day a vessel hove in sight and bore down toward them. Then it seemed to change its mind and steamed off in another direction. Probably the ship thought the small boats were German submarine decoys.

Torture reached its limits the next day. Previously the officers had restored to physical force to prevent the Lascars from drinking the salt water. Hope had almost died when late that evening a vessel sighted and picked them up. They were landed in Ireland.

For His Advice to Try Nervworth Had the Happiest Results.

The giver of the following endorsement, Mr. W. L. Garey, well known employee of the Erie railroad, had the kind of friend referred to and this is what Mr. Garey says about it:

"A friend recommended Nerv-Worth for sleeplessness and nerve trouble and I decided I would try Nerv-Worth on his recommendation. For years I have not been able to get my rest at night, on account of nervousness, and would get up in the morning not feeling like going to work.

ORDER YOUR FERTILIZERS NOW

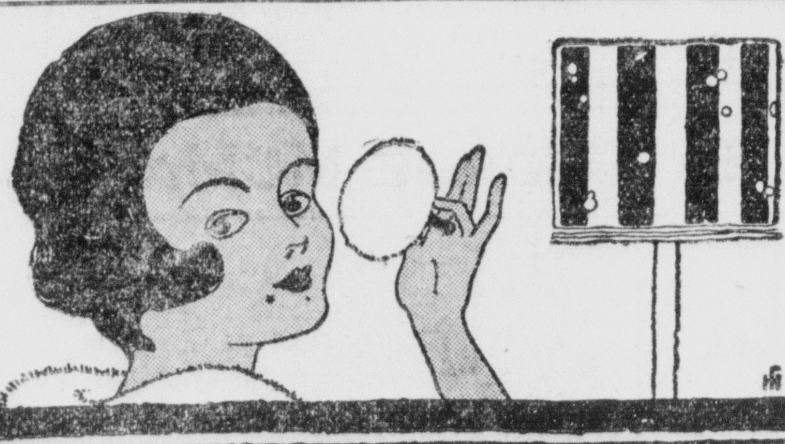

The Office of Information, United States Department of Agriculture, has just issued the following announcement:

"Farmers are urged by the United States Department of Agriculture to place orders at once for fertilizer needed for fall wheat. It is very important, according to W. W. Mein, Assistant of the Secretary of Agriculture in charge of the licensing of fertilizer concerns under the Food Control Act, that dealers and manufacturers know farmers' needs as soon as possible, so that orders can be combined and car space used to the best advantage. Transportation difficulties require that freight cars be loaded to their rated capacity. Delay in ordering, it is said, may result in a repetition of last spring's experience when many farmers failed to receive their mixed fertilizer and acid phosphate until after planting time."

Orders can be filled in the "ACORN" or other leading brands of Williams & Clark's Fertilizers and delivered at your nearest station if you

FOCH WILL GIVE HUNS NO LET UP

(American Press)

Washington, Aug. 9.—Army officials here greeted with delight the news that the Franco-British forces had launched a smashing blow at the enemy on a wide front in Picardy.

The outstanding fact to observers here is that Field Marshal Foch finds himself able to strike again on the heels of the victory at the Marne, which still is being pressed.

The supreme commander has made it evident that he has the men and the means to keep up the aggressive battle for which American officers have been desirous. The reputation of the great French strategist is that he is an advocate of attacking the enemy without rest. He is living up to that reputation today as never before, as indications are that he has scored another punishing surprise blow on the enemy already staggering under the rush that swept him out of the Marne salient in two weeks time. As the situation is seen, the enemy now faces alternative operations on at least two fronts. Pressure along the Vesle line is being maintained vigorously, and even while the driving was getting under way on the Albert-Montdidier line to the north, French, American and British troops were hammering away between Scissons and Reims in a way that made it virtually certain that the Aisne-Vesle triangle would be cleared of the enemy shortly and the allied line here carried forward to the Aisne or possibly across it. Around Soissons the French are already in position to outflank the line north of the Aisne should occasion offer, or to swing north and east and menace the Germans in the Picardy salient in the flank and rear.

Secretary Baker said that the new program of the war department of 5,000,000 men by next spring was recommended by the military section of the supreme war council at Versailles. From this was drawn the deduction that these highly-trained military students of all the allied nations and the United States, with all facts before them, have reached the conclusion that with such an American force coming on the pooled resources in the western front were already sufficient to permit General Foch to begin his effort to oust the enemy and destroy his military power.

DEMOCRATIC KING SAYS THIS WOMAN

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Paris, August 1.—George V is described as a "democratic king" by a woman correspondent of Petit Parisien who writes of her visit to Buckingham Palace on the occasion of an open air investiture.

"The sight of King George in the midst of his people at this ceremony filled me with mingled astonishment and admiration," she asserted. "When the American labor representatives said that with King George they had no impression of being in the presence of a king, they bestowed the highest praise on one who is only, and who is quite content to be only, the first gentleman of his kingdom."

"There is no difficulty about getting in for one of these investitures. It is unnecessary to use any influence or provide oneself with a letter of introduction, or even a ticket of admission—the King of England is to be seen by everybody."

"I noted the simplicity of his costume. There is nothing to distinguish him outwardly from all the others."

"While 'God Save the King' is being played he stands at the salute, holding himself quite straight, his grave frank countenance full at once of dignity and kindness. There is no hysterical enthusiasm, but in all eyes may be seen the kind of trust and esteem and affectionate pleasure with which one looks upon a kinsman or a friend of whom one is proud."

"We have here a truly democratic sovereign, one who instead of imposing his will upon the people feels that he incarnates their sentiments and wishes, who associates himself with their labors and shares their anxieties and ordeals, who fulfills his difficult role simply and unconsciously."

VOLUNTARY ENLISTMENT SUSPENDED

(American Press)

Washington, Aug. 9.—Voluntary enlistments in the army or navy were suspended completely to prevent disruption of industry pending disposition of the bill proposing to extend draft ages to include all men between 18 and 45 years. Orders were issued by Secretaries Baker and Daniels directing that no voluntary enlistments be accepted until further orders. The orders also exclude civilians from appointment to officers' training camps until further notice.

The orders were issued after a conference between Secretary Baker and Secretary Daniels and were made public after President Wilson had visited the offices of both secretaries. It was explained that the view of the government is that many of the older men are indispensable in their present occupations, but the natural result of the debate on the draft age question is certain to lead to a rush to the recruiting offices. It is regarded as essential that men greatly needed at home should be prevented from rushing into the army under a mistaken idea that they are certain to be drafted anyhow and prefer to join the service voluntarily.

WANTS MARRIAGE SET ASIDE BECAUSE BRIDE UNDER AGE

In Probate Court Arthur Whitel, an infant, by his next friend, L. P. Whitel, brings action against Mildred Whitel, a minor of the age of 15 years, asking that a pretended marriage between the two be set aside because the bride was not old enough to contract marriage. Gregg, Patton and Gregg represent plaintiff.

The petitioner declares that the couple were married in Kentucky, July 13, 1918, and that the defendant was not legal age to contract marriage, and that therefore the marriage was void.

The court is asked to declare the ceremony void and set the marriage aside.

LOAFERS STILL MUCH IN EVIDENCE

Regardless of the strict orders of the government to round up the loafers and put them to work, and the deep disgust that the sight of a loafer arouses in the man who is doing his part, there are many loafers in evidence in the city and county who should be forced to go to work or be sent to the workhouse where there is no alternative but work.

It is no unusual sight to see these idlers about, doing little or nothing toward supporting themselves or others, although they are not as plentiful as sometime ago.

Every honest worker becomes disgusted at the sight of the man who is not at work, it is pointed out whether the man is dressed in rags or is well-to-do, and complaints have been made that more careful attention should be given the loafer by those empowered to put him to work.
